

The Chair of Development Economics (Prof. Dr. Andreas Fuchs) at the Georg-August-Universität Göttingen is looking for

1 Student Research Assistant (m/f/d)
(20-40 hours per month, initially limited to six months)

We hire one Student Research Assistant for the organization of the second Homecoming event (September 27 and 28) of the Göttingen School of Development Economics. The purpose of the event is to unite alumni and current students from Göttingen, fostering community, networking, and discussions concerning development economics. The student assistant's role involves a diverse set of responsibilities, including administrative tasks and organization aimed at ensuring the success of our second Homecoming event.

Tasks:

- Administrative tasks and organization of the second Homecoming, this includes:
  - Communication with alumni
  - Coordinating event logistics, such as room reservations, catering, technical equipment, etc.
  - Marketing and advertising to ensure a good number of participants
  - Managing participant registration
  - On-site support during the event itself

Required profile:

- Enrolled (Bachelor or Master) student with a background in Sustainable Development Studies, Economics, Development Economics, International Economics
- Interest in the field of economic development
- Able to work independently and perform his/her tasks accurately and in a structured way
- Team spirit and flexibility
- Knowledge of standard PC software (particularly MS Office) is a must
- Fluency in German and English is required
- Being in Göttingen between September 24 and September 30

What we offer:

- An insight into development economics and the network of the Göttingen School of Development Economics
- An international work environment

Further information:

- The hourly wage is based on the guidelines of the state of Lower Saxony through the Lower Saxony Ministry of Science and Culture
- The desired start date is April 1st, 2024

The Chair of Development Economics investigates policy-relevant issues in development economics from a predominantly political-economy perspective and with quantitative methods. We deal with questions of international development, trade and investment policy. The effectiveness of international development cooperation projects and government-led interventions and policies are a central object of investigation. We also analyze the economics of natural disasters, conflicts, migration, and international organizations. Further information about the holder of the professorship can be found at www.andreas-fuchs.net. The Chair website is available at www.economics.uni-goettingen.de/fuchs.

Please address your application to Laura Wedemeyer (laura.wedemeyer@uni-goettingen.de), including your CV, cover letter, transcript of records, high-school diploma, and—if available—your Bachelor certificate in electronic form (a single pdf file, no larger than 8 MB, name the pdf in the following way: "Application_Lastname"). The application deadline is February 6, 2023. For further questions, please contact Ms. Wedemeyer at the provided e-mail address.

Please note:

With the submission of your application, you accept the processing of your applicant data in terms of data-protection law. Further information on the legal basis and data usage is provided in the Hinweisblatt zur Datenschutzgrundverordnung (DSGVO) at <https://www.uni-goettingen.de/hinweisdsghvo>.