

Analogical patterns in inflectional morphology (APIM 2020)
 Georg-August-Universität Göttingen
 Kulturwissenschaftliches Zentrum (KWZ, 2.636)
 Contact: sascha.gaglia@gwdg.de

Thursday, April 16, 2020

|              |  |
|--------------|--|
| 9.00-9.15h   | Introduction   |
| 9.15-10.15h  | Frans Plank (Konstanz/Oxford):The distribution of suppletive stems over inflectional paradigms                                      |
| 10.15-10.45h | Coffee break   |
| 10.45-11.30h | Marc-Olivier Hinzelin (Hamburg):Take-over as analogical change in the creation of syncretism and homonymy                           |
| 11.30-12.15h | Florian Wandl (Zürich):Beyond proportional analogy: the case of Slavic všĩ ‘all’ and sicĩ ‘this, such’                              |
| 12.15-13.30h | Lunch break  |
| 13.30-14.30h | Louise Esher (CNRS/Toulouse):From inflectional tokens to paradigmatic generalisations   |
| 14.30-15.15h | Borja Herce (Zürich):The typological diversity of (meta)morphemes   |
| 15.15-15.45h | Coffee break   |
| 15.45-16.30h | Eugen Hill (Köln):Contamination is not the mechanism underlying morphological analogy: evidence from dialects of Indo-European      |
| 16.30-17.15h | John Lumsden (Montreal):A cognitive account of analogical change in the 3rd person declensions of Old English            |
| 17.15-18.00h | Bruno Olsson & Matthew Carroll (Australian National University):Syntactically relevant morphology: The coastal Marind fourth gender |

Friday, April 17, 2020

|              |  |
|--------------|--|
| 9.00-9.45h   | Stavros Skopeteas (with Maya Gálvez Wimmelmann, Göttingen):Mapping stress to tonal accent. Analogical processes in language contact |
| 9.45-10.30h  | Mari Aigro & Virve-Anneli Vihman (Tartu):I’m loving on you: the role of analogy in the spreading of oblique case frames in Estonian |
| 10.30-11.00h | Coffee break   |
| 11.00-12.00h | Erich Round (Queensland/MPI-SHH Jena/Surrey),Louise Esher (CNRS/Toulouse), Sacha Beniamine (MPI-SHH Jena):Evolving Morphemes    |
| 12.00-12.45h | Matías Guzmán Naranjo (Paris):Analogical classification and the paradigm cell filling problem                                       |
| 12.45-14.00h | Lunch break  |
| 14.00-14.45h | Christoph Schwarze (Konstanz):Lexical aspects of morphological irregularity   |
| 14.45-15.30h | Sascha Gaglia, Eduard Łukasiewicz & Noel Seger (Göttingen):Morphomic stability from a temporal perspective: Old and Middle French   |